EMPLOYER-SPONSORED PRIMARY CARE CLINICS

Every day, employers are faced with a real dilemma: How to provide their employees with access to quality healthcare while maintaining a control on rising costs? It's a tough balancing act with no easy answers. But thankfully, we have a solution – an onsite Employer-Sponsored Primary Care Clinic.

WHAT is an Employer-Sponsored Primary Care Clinic?

An onsite Employer-Sponsored Primary Care Clinic is an onsite clinic that provides an array of accessible primary care and urgent care for illnesses or injuries that are non-life threatening; health promotion; disease prevention and wellness services; immunizations; and comprehensive occupational medicine to businesses and organizations of all sizes and scopes.

Typical Primary Care Clinic Services:

- Diagnosis and treatment of illnesses
- Occupational treatment
- Management of chronic illnesses
- Immunizations/flu shots
- Physical examinations
- Routine health screenings
- Preventive care
- Management of chronic conditions
- Coordination of care with offsite providers

Just like at a traditional doctor's office or urgent care clinic, services at an onsite clinic can include treatment of a wide variety of ailments like common colds, sinus infections and stomach viruses.

In addition, the clinician staff can help effectively manage long-term, chronic conditions such as high blood pressure and diabetes.

So, what's the best part about an onsite clinic for your employees?

Convenience and accessibility.

The onsite clinic model typically provides shorter in-office wait times and much longer doctor-patient encounters. It improves the timeliness, convenience, and efficiency of care.

An onsite clinic provides everyone with fast and easy access to affordable primary care services and convenient medical care. And that could mean making even less time-consuming and often unnecessary trips to see expensive medical specialists or visit the ER. In addition, the availability of simple, routine care at work can be a valued added perk.

WHY should you invest?

It's your workforce. It's your clinic. It's your bottom line.

Providing onsite employer-sponsored medical care services is a more affordable, alternative way for controlling rising healthcare costs.

It's designed to control overall costs by emphasizing primary care and promoting long-term health. Research has proven that patients who keep up with routine and preventive care early often end up with lower healthcare spending costs.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the indirect costs of poor health—including absenteeism, disability, and reduced work output—may be several times higher than direct medical costs.

WHO should you turn to?

The idea of having an onsite clinic can sound daunting – which is why you should turn to a trusted medical provider like Onsite OHS to lead the way. We offer the flexibility to create an individualized employer-based medical solution each and every time. Our programs and services enable our clients to provide appropriate and cost-effective healthcare for their entire workforce.

Additionally, we have experience and expertise in dealing with everything from recruiting the best medical personnel for your clinic to handling employee data confidentiality, or from meeting federal healthcare guidelines to medical malpractice insurance and disposing of biomedical waste.

As your healthcare partner, our medical personnel are dedicated to you; your employees; your staff. We'll work closely to provide high-quality outpatient healthcare services in a friendly, comfortable environment. We'll even coordinate your care if you need to see a specialist for a more serious health issue.

WELLNESS PROGRAMS

A HEALTHY WORKFORCE IS A PRODUCTIVE WORKFORCE.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the workplace is an important setting for health protection, health promotion and disease prevention programs.

In addition to providing onsite employer-sponsored primary care, we can work together to create a comprehensive workplace health program.

The program would both compliment and support the clinic's main goal of keeping every employee healthy.

Possible workplace health program options:

- Wellness Newsletter
- Health Fair
- Health Incentives
- Smoking Cessation Programs
- Health Risk Assessments
- Workshops on Wellness Issues

RETURN-ON-INVESTMENT

The CDC reports that workplace health programs have the potential to impact areas such as healthcare costs, absenteeism, productivity, retention, culture and employee morale.

A recent review showed that companies with 1,000+ workers who had workplace wellness programs found a return-on-investment of $3.27 for medical costs and $2.73 for absenteeism for every dollar spent.
